

"Is it Okay?" and Other Questions for Hak Ja Han supporters

Is it ok for mother to disobey True Father after he goes to Spiritual World?

Is it ok for mother to make amendments to the Principle, after Father said that the "last words" have already been prepared?

Is it ok for mother to dismiss the successor to True Parents, who is the only pure child of the lineage, as if his appointment and purity and other qualifications meant nothing at all to heaven?

Is it ok for mother to insist upon the changing of the Cheon Seong Geong as the required offering for Hyung Jin Nim to demonstrate unity with her? In other words, is it ok for mother to require "Hyung Jin Nim's disunity with True Father" as the required offering to "prove unity with her"?

IF HAK JA HAN requires ANYONE to disunite with True Father to prove their unity with her, then she is the one ATTEMPTING to divide True Parents. If a person is tempted to disunite with father to prove themselves to mother, then that person has allowed True Parents to be divided within themselves. Under those circumstances, people who resist that temptation are higher than the Temptress and have more authority in Cheon Il Guk than the temptress herself. She will not regain some of her previous authority until she stops requiring such an offering, from every single human being that ever existed. In the position as the widow of the True Father Sun Myung Moon, she was in an elevated position to ask every inhabitant of the cosmos to honor her husband's words. Instead she asked faithful members to surrender to traditions that the Lord of the Second Advent did not authorize. Thus, she should render an apology to the entire cosmos. This is so that we can adore her once again as the mother and grandmother.

She should encourage all of the blessed families that she consecrated, under altered vows and altered tradition, to cleanse themselves by going through the original tradition blessing, that Hyung Jin Nim dutifully maintained during her tragic lapse.

She might also strengthen us by exposing the enemy within, by explaining his tactics and concepts that ensnared her. When we understand these pitfalls we will be strengthened all the more.

Heaven has no more given up on Hak Ja Han than any of us, but the Principle will remain forever, unaltered by anyone. The Principle preceded creation and it is the truth of a healthy cosmos. To alter the Principle is to hate all of creation. No one has that power. Even God is not a True God if He breaks His covenants and principle.

According to the 3 great kingships principle, the mother must deliver unto the father a son who exemplifies perfect eldersonship and original faith. We see this in the mother/son cooperation of Rebekah and Jacob. Resulting in the horizontal establishment of the Father (singular) of Israel in the three generations of Abraham Isaac and Jacob. Hak Ja Han left her son (Hyung Jin Moon) hung out to dry playing a dangerous game of chicken with him. He did not reject True Parents. He insisted on uplifting True Father where she would not. She attempted to break his heart by isolating him. But heaven ministered to him as he went chasing father where father taught him to go, into nature. Instead of his heart being broken it meandered and pondered a harsh reality. And upon a final kick from True Father from the Spiritual World he came out and broke the silence. Hak Ja Han became his greatest test of unity with his father.

Hyung Jin Nim's unity with the "True Mother" (the person) was seen in his many episodes begging her not to alter what Father had done. He did this until she left him no recourse. Hyung Jin Nim's unity with the "True Mother" (the ideal) was seen in how he made a public demonstration/condition with his children, to solidify the 3 great kingships. He did this to allow the cosmos to go beyond the frustrated point that Hak Ja Han refused to go beyond. He did this because Hak Ja Han refused to bow to the 3 great kingships.

The dutiful wife of Hyung Jin Moon, Yeon Ah Moon, did pledge her very life to accomplishing mother-son cooperation.

On April 26th 2015, Yeon Ah Moon pledged that when Her husband passes, she will lift up the 3rd Kingship and not set her will up as competition to the will of True Father. She gave us all permission to stone her if she fails. Thus, her life is to uphold the 3 great kingships and only that. Apart from upholding the 3 great Kingships, she has no life. And on May 24th Yeon Ah Moon PUT all women into the object position to God's lineage by bowing to the 3 great kingships of True Father (Sun Myung Moon, Hyung Jin Moon, & Shin Jun Moon). This is how Hyung Jin Nim showed unity with True Mother, by having Yeon Ah Moon attend that mission after Hak Ja Han vacated it.

Hyung Jin Nim's couple was never supposed to suffer. His couple was supposed to enjoy the cosmic sabbath with the rest of us. He was never supposed to place his family in this position. Their family and our families were supposed to inherit cosmic sabbath having no debt. But after Hak Ja Han's unprincipled altering of tradition, only by coming into the original covenant can we get unstuck, move forward again, and enjoy cosmic sabbath.

The meek shall inherit the earth. Even mother was meant to come back to the "original (meek) position" and exemplify service for all blessed families.

Mother must now perfect herself by June 16, 2013. Then she should return to her original position. When the mother and father attend God, they should lead a life in the position of a servant that can teach people the way of a servant in the unfallen world. They should teach individuals the path leading to perfection; they should find a nation and show the path of perfection. Sun Myung Moon - May 11, 2007

And by accepting the following...

Therefore, you have to have absolute confidence in your blessed family life. Blessed families are the most precious thing for God, Jesus and True Parents to see. The value of the blessed family is greater than the value of anything you can imagine in the universe. Nothing can compare with it, from the beginning of the creation to the very end of history. Nothing can replace it. I have established God's true lineage through the blessed families. On that basis, the entire universe has no choice but to accept and cooperate. Sun Myung Moon - December 18, 1999

... we can find power to make the world in the image of the True God and True Parents.
